CABINET FALL IS IMMINENT

Asquith Said to Have Whip Handle, But Crisis Still Exists.

PREMIER IS SILENT.

Hurried Conference Among Leaders Result in no Outward Change In The Situation in Ulster.

London, March 27.—When the House of Commons convened today, Premier Asquith had still failed to solve the problem of meeting the second crisis faced by his cabinet within a week. Field Marshall Sir John French, chief of the general staff, and Adjutant Sir John Spencer Ewart were standing firm in their determination to retire from the service as a result of the government's repudiation of the note they initiated with War Minister Seely, assuring General Gough that his command would not be forced to serve in Ulster.

The statement which the Premier has promised to make to the House of Commons as to the commanding officers was postponed for a third time. It was expected last night, but was put over until today. When the commons convened, the cabinet was still in session. It was then said the Asquith statement might be expected shortly afternoon, but announcement was made that it had been postponed until 5 o'clock.

In the lobbies of the House of Commons there was the liveliest speculation as to whether the further postponement of the Asquith statement foreshadowed the fall of the cabinet. The belief was expressed by many that failure to bring about a settlement of the new army tangle would mean the dissolution of the cabinet.

Asquith called a special meeting of the cabinet early today, to again take up the resignation of Gen. Sir John French and General Ewart. Soon after the cabinet session opened Gen. French was summoned to Downing street, supposedly by the premier. He declared that his resignation had been neither accepted nor withdrawn, and that he had every intention of retiring.

There was a wide variety of reports in circulation as to the course the premier might take in meeting the crisis. One report was that War Secretary Seely would surely be sacrificed in order to retain General French.

After an extended session the full cabinet meeting adjourned and Colonel Seely and General French were left closited with Asquith. It was believed that upon this conference hinges the outcome of the entire affair. Colonel Seely showed his willingness Wednesday to shoulder entire responsibility for the "Gough treaty," and a second submission of his resignation would not cause any surprise.

That the government is still facing a situation of extreme difficulty is proved by the fact that Premier Asquith was not in a position last night to make his promised statement in Parliament, and it was consequently postponed until today.

The affair is full of extravagant rumors, among the most credible being the report that Colonel Seely, is, after all, to quit the War Office, by an exchange of portfolios with Lewis Harcourt, Secretary for the Colonies.

The only new facts in the situation today were to be found in the resignation of Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the Imperial General Staff, and Sir John Spencer Ewart, Adjutant General from the Army Council. The rumor persists that other members of the Army Council have resigned, but this cannot be confirmed.

Negotiations and conferences between Buckingham Palace, the War Office, and Downing street, were carried on throughout the day, and it was known that the strongest efforts were being made to induce Field Marshal French and General Ewart to reconsider their action. The Prime Minister called a hurried meeting of the cabinet at his residence after it was decided to postpone the statement to Parliament.

Later it was announced with a show of authority, that both French and Ewart had consented to withdraw their resignations.

In Ireland no change has occurred. Belfast remains quiet, and, although it is asserted that the officers of the Curragh camp are determined to resign because of the repudiation of Col. Seely's guarantee by the government, no actual resignations, so far as is known, have occurred.

DRIVE COUNCIL OUT.

Militants Invade Borough Chamber In London, Smash Chairs and Hurl Chemical Bombs.

London, March 27.—An extraordinary suffragette disturbance occurred yesterday at a meeting of the Poplar borough council, which had voted adversely to letting out Council halls for suffragette meetings.

With shouts of "cowards," and other offensive epithets, a large number of women invaded that section of the hall reserced for the Councilors. Bombs containing evil-smelling chemicals were exploded by the score and bags of flour and stones were flung at the members. The councilors were soon struggling with the infuriated women who were armed with bludgeons and bottles.

Shrieks and shouts, the smashing of glass and the splintering of chairs completed one of the worst scenes of pandemonium in the history of the suffragette movement. The police were sent for, but for some reason refrained from interference.

The Mayor retained the chair in a vain endeavor to resume the Council proceedings, but finally the council beat a retreat, leaving the women in possession of the hall, with a few Socialist members of the council, who remained to hear speeches delivered by Miss Zelie Emerson, of Jackson, Mich., and others.

While Miss Emerson was speaking the council ventured to return to the chamber and carried a resolution excluding the public from the chamber for three months.

George Lansbury, a member of the council and a strong supporter of militant movement, fiercely protested against the proceedings as irregular, and threw the town clock, books and papers to the floor, amid cheers from the suffragettes. The council meeting then adjourned.

SECURES ADVERSE REPORT.

Nomination of James A. Lawson Was Contrary to the Wishes of Senator.

Washington, March 27.—It developes that the Senate committee on postoffices and Postroads, of which Senator Swanson of Virginia, is a member, has reported adversely upon the confirmation of James A. Lawson to be postmaster at Danville, Va., who was nominated for this post last December. The action, it is understood, was taken upon the grounds that the nomination was objectionable to the people of Danville and to the Virginia senators.

Mr. Lawson was recommended for the Danville postmastership by Eugene Withers and other progressive Democratic leaders of Pittsylvania. He was nominated over the protest of Representative E. W. Saunders who represents the Danville district, and the two senators.

Judge Saunders and the Senators supported Mr. Mitchell for the appointment.

Senators Martin and Swanson have it in their power to block the confirmation of Mr. Lawson, and the only hope for the Danville progressive to serve as postmaster is for the president to keep his name before the Senate until Congress adjourns and then make him a recess appointee. In that event Mr. Lawson can serve until his successor is appointed, whether it be two years or four years.

PARTY CLASH IN TOLL FIGHT

Democratic Leadership Issue Grows Out of Effort to Limit Debate.

PRESIDENT WINNER.

Clark Refuses to Endorse Special Rule and Spirited Contest Is On today.

Washington, March 27.—By a vote of 207 to 176, the administration forces advocating the repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama canal act won an initial victory in the House this afternoon. On this vote the previous question of the so-called gag-rule to make privileged the repeal bill, was ordered.

The carrying of the previous question in this test vote on the repeal bill proper presages a safe administration majority.

Speaker Clark asked the clerk to call his name at the end of the roll call, and when he voted in the negative he was accorded a demonstration by the opponents of the repeal.

Washington, March 27.—When the House met today it faced a stirring contest over the tolls issue, intensified by a statement issued last night by Speaker Clark in which he denounced the special rule under which it is proposed to put through the lower body the Administration's tolls repeal bill.

The Speaker's ringing declaration that "I will not be a party to ramming such a rule down the throats of members," has turned the House situation topsy-turvy and exciting times are expected in that body this afternoon. There is to be another hour of debate on the rule and then a vote.

The Speaker's opposition in conjunction with that of Majority Leader Underwood, Minority Leader Mann, Progressive Leader Murdock, and other strong members of the House jeopardizes the rule, if not the tolls exemption repeal bill.

If the previous question on the rule is not ordered, it will throw it open to amendment and will also pave the way for the amendment of the Administration's repeal bill.

The rule reported by the Rules Committee provides that the repeal bill shall be put on passage after twenty hours' debate and without amendment.

New elements injected into the tolls fight indicate that the outcome will involve the settlement of questions of far greater importance than the exemption of American coastwise vessels from the payment of tolls for passage through the canal.

It is believed that the fight will demonstrate more clearly than has been done before just who is the leader of the Democratic party.

Speaker Clark issued a statement last night, attacking the rule sanctioned by the Administration for limiting debate on the repeal bill, as a "gag" measure completely inconsistent with the Democratic attitude laid down in the fight for reform of the House rules. His "defi" is viewed as applying to the Administration's repeal program as well as to the parliamentary step designed to open the way for its accomplishment, in short as a "defi" of President Wilson himself.

The lining up of Speaker Clark with the opposition to the Administration completes the inclusion in this list of practically all of the Democratic House leaders who opposed Woodrow Wilson's candidacy for the Presidential nomination.

President Wilson made a strong statement, setting the issue on which the fight will be made by his adherents. He made it clear that the alignment ought to be made according to the attitude of each member of Congress toward the Administration and on that alone. He emphatically took the position that opinions as to whether the exemption constitutes a breach of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty have no vital part in the present controversy, since his plea for the repeal is based solely upon the exigencies of the Administration's foreign policy.

The Democracy of the capital is thrilled more deeply by the possibilities of the present situation than it has been by any party issue that has arisen since the Baltimore convention.

REGRETS KILLING EDITOR.

Mme Caillaux Says She Meant to Shoot and Create Scandal Unless Given Satisfaction.

Paris, March 27.—With a cry of indignation during her cross-examination by Magistrate Boucard yesterday at the preliminary inquiry into the killing of M. Calmette Mme. Caillaux reminded the magistrate how the Figaro had baited her husband about the "Thy Joe" letter. She began to weep.

"I regret profoundly the consequences of my act,' said witness, amid her tears. "I would prefer a thousand times that the campaign had continued rather than I should have killed M. Calmette. It is impossible to find in my act another cause than that which I have given." M. Boucard sought an explanation of the discrepancies in Mme. Caillaux's recital before him and the story she told the police.

"In attacking your husband," said the magistrate, "M. Calmette was fighting the politician, not the private citizen. Moreover, the letter signed "Thy Joe" concerned another woman."

"Yes" responded the witness, "but it was I who succeeded that woman as the wife of M. Caillaux. I will recall to you how M. Calmette in an article on March 16 bantered my husband regarding the intimate nature of this letter; and that is not politics."

Mme. Caillaux told the magistrate that she had received on March 15 an anonymous letter which he had since destroyed, informing her of the imminent publication of letters concerning her.

Asked by M. Boncard to enlighten him regarding the contents of the letters, the publication of which she feared, Mme. Caillaux said they concerned the private life of her husband and herself.

The inquiry into the Rochette affair by the special committee of deputies was practically concluded today, and a report will be presented to the Chamber at an early date.

"Why did you buy a revolver," asked Boucard "if your object in calling on M. Calmette was to talk about letters which you feared would be published?"

"I was prepared for eventualities," Mme. Caillaux replied. "If he did not give me satisfaction I meant to shoot him and create a scandal."

The next question the magistrate asked was "Then why did you not speak to M. Calmette about the letters before shooting him?"

"I lost all idea of the object of my visit when I entered his office. My voice seemed stifled. A fear took hold of me which even today is inexplicable. I lost my head and fired," replied Mme. Caillaux.

M. Boucard reminded Mme. Caillaux that her statements to him were inconsistent with those she made to the police commissary an hour after the shooting had occurred.

Mme. Caillaux replied:

"That may well be. I had no luncheon or dinner. This fact and the emotion which overpowered me made it impossible for me to give the commissary a coherent explanation. I meant to shoot if M. Calmette gave me no satisfaction but I did not mean to kill him."

Examined as to why she had practiced pistol shooting, Mme. Caillaux replied: 'I did not practice with the object of learning to shoot, but merely to familiarize myself with the working of the automatic pistol."

STILL CONJECTURAL.

Observers of Situation at El Paso Not Impressed by Official Utterances of Either Party.

El Paso, Tex., March 27.—Except for two brief dispatches from General Villa, claiming uniform rebel success in the fighting about Torreon, the silence from "the front" was unbroken today. These dispatches indicate, however, that Villa has retaken Gomez Palacio.

One of the dispatches was sent from El Verjel and one from Gomez Palacio. The first, from El Verjel, said Gomez Palacio had been in possession of the constitutionalists since Thursday morning, but that El Verjel would be maintained as a base of military operations until the railroad connecting it with Gomez Palacio could be rebuilt.

This same dispatch urged Gen. Manuel Chao, military governor of Chihuahua state, at Juarez, to rush heavy supplies of building materials with which to repair the railroad.

The federals attempted to leave Torreon for the South Thursday morning, said the dispatch but were driven back into the city. Villa also reported that 3,000 constitutionalists, under General Maclovios Herrera had been sent eastward for the purpose of making a feint against Saltillo. The dispatch closed with a statement that the rebels would be in possesion of Torreon, together with the entire garrison, in a short time.

San Antonio, Tex., March 27.—General Pancho Villa, field marshal of the Constitutionalists, has admitted the defeat of his once conquering army at Gomez Palacio. In a message to Provisional Governor Chao, of Chihuahua, who is in Juarez to meet General Carranza, Villa said that because of the terrific and deadly fire of the Federals, he and his army had been forced to retreat to Noe, a station aobut twenty kilometers north of Torreon. In all his career this is the first time General Villa even has intimated defeat.

Eagle Pass, Tex., March 27.—Following the repulse of General Francisco Villa and his rebel army, fighting has been resumed near Torreon at Noe, a few miles north of Gomez Palacio.

This was the substance of a brief dispatch to Federal headquarters in Piedras Negras, said to have come direct from the battlefield. It was sent by General Joaquin Maas.

TELLS OF BRUTAL MURDER.

Youth, Turning State's Evidence, Accused Alleged Accomplice.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 27.—Rowland S. Pennigton a youth, who together with George H. March, is charged with the murder of George S. Pinkerton, former tax collector, of Edgmont Township, took the the stand yesterday in Deleware County Court at Media, and told a terrible story of Pinkerton's death. As the young farm hand told the story, his eyes glanced from time to time to the face of George H. March, who is being tried for the murder of Pinkerton. Pennington is under indictment, but turned state's evidence today.

Pennington told how he wrestled with Pinkerton over the floor of a stable after first attacking him with a blackjack. Pinkerton had gained the upper hand when Pennington called for March. March, according to the witness, recovered the blackjack and struck the tax collector again and again on the head with it.

"George stamped upon his sides," said Pennington. Then he said:

"Which side is his heart on?"

District Attorney Hannum asked.

"March stopped to ask that question?"

"He did," said Pennington.

MONEY SPENT ON EDUCATION

Public Schools of Virginia Cost $46,776.04 During Last Session.

DOUBLED IN 7 YEARS.

States, Counties and Cities of Old Dominion Expend $39,903,575 in Nine Years.

Richmond, March 27.—The people of Virginia expended $6,075,776.04 on public education in the primary, graded and high schools for the school session of last year. Of this amount $1,948,306.34 was provided by the State and $4,127,469.70 provided locally. The cities of the Commonwealth appropriated $1,346,262.29 for schools in addition to State and other funds.

The total spent on public education in Virginia for primary, grammar and high school grades has advanced from $2,432,102.45 for the session of 1904-5, to $6,075,776.04 for the school session of 1912-13.

The House of Delegates on February 17 passed a resolution requesting the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to furnish the House with a statement showing the full amount of money appropriated for and expended in the primary, graded and high schools of the State from 1905 to 1913, inclusive Mr. Stearnes had the figures as to State funds right at his fingers' ends and furnished them at once, with approximate statements of the county and city expenditures. He has since gone through the reports of the cities and counties and compiled a complete statement of school repairs and expenditures for the years from 1905 to 1913, which has been printed as House document No. 5.

The report refers only to the primary, graded and high school grades, and does not include the amounts the State has expended in college and normal school work within the period indicated.

KELSEY FOUND GUILTY.

Former Richmond Man is Convicted of Larceny by a Brooklyn Jury.

New York, March 27.—A jury before County Judge Niemann in Brooklyn has convicted Robert Kelsey, a lawyer, formerly of Brooklyn, of grand larceny in the first degree. Kelsey was found guilty of swindling Peter A. Hegeman, of 35 Monroe Place, Brooklyn, a former client, out of $9,270.

Hegeman testified that five years ago he turned the money over to Kelsey to be invested in the Cosmopolitan Land Company, and never received his stock. Kelsey finally admitted, the witness said, that he had used the money for his own purposes.

Kelsey was indicted in 1910. He jumped his bail. Some months ago he was found at Richmond, Va., where, under the name of Michael Kavanagh, he had built up a prosperous garage business.

KILLS STEPMOTHER.

New York, March 27.—Every policeman in New York today is on the lookout for George Disma, gunman, who last night shot and killed his stepmother, Mrs. Ella Disma, in her home in Williamsburg because she refused his demands for the whereabouts of the young man's wife, who had fled to hiding in fear of her life.

After the shooting young Disma fled before a crowd of enraged neighbors, mounted a bicycle standing on the street, distanced pursuers police and vanished.

SINKING OF A SCHOONER.

Six of Crew of Hattie Simpson Drown off Cape Henry.

Washington, March 27.—News of the loss on March 21 of the schooner Hattie P. Simpson, of Boston, with her captain, mate, steward, and three seamen, off Cape Henry, reached this city last night in a radiogram from Rear Admiral C. J. Badger, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, to Secretary Daniels. The message read: "Have just received word from the Kansas, well off Cape Henry, the following: 'Received from the Caracas: "Saved—F. Hesam, second mate; John Turner, seaman; John Maria, engineer, and Charles Brown, seaman, of the schooner Hattie Simpson, of Boston, bound from Philadelphia to Galveston on March 13; abandoned and sunk on morning of March 21. All remainder of crew lost."

The first news of the disaster was received by Capt. W. B. Fletcher, of the Kansas.

New York, March 27.—The schooner Hattie P. Simpson, a 1265-ton vessel, was built at Waldoboro, Me., in 1891, and was owned by A. R. Reed, of Boston, which was the schooner's home port. The shipping records show her as having sailed from Philadelphia on March 10 for Galveston in command of Captain Strong. According to wireless messages received here from the Caracas, Captain Strong of the Simpson and five men of the total crew of ten were drowned.

ACCIDENT TO TUGBOAT

Eugenia Strikes Mud Bank on Opposite Side of River and is Partly Submerged.

Considerable excitement was caused on the river front about six o'clock yesterday evening by the partial sinking of the tugboat Eugenia, belonging to Louis E. Smoot, and which is being used in towing sand scows on the river. The starboard side of the tugboat struck the mud bank, throwing her on her side, and the scows which were in tow, rushed ahead and striking the tug boat caused her port side, which was in deep water, to become submerged.

The members of the crew, seeing that the collision was inevitable, had scampered to the starboard side, where they remained until taken off by a small boat which came immediately to their rescue.

In the southeastern section of the city, where relatives of the crew reside, the greatest excitement and anxiety was caused, and in a few minutes the hills were filled with men, women and children. It was soon seen, however, that no one had been drowned by the accident.

This is the second time the Eugenia has been sunk recently. Some time ago it will be remembered, a similar accident happened to the boat near the spot where she met the mishap yesterday. The tugboat will be raised as soon as possible.

The tug was in command of Capt. George Laycock, and the others aboard were James Wilkins, engineman, George Gibson and Walter Scott.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT FAIR.

Extensive Preparations For Occasion Tomorrow Afternoon

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be a big time for the children of our city, at the American Indian Guard's fair, which is being held in Odd Fellow's Hall on North Columbus street, since the committee having same in charge have extended invitations to them, through our schools and other channels to be present at this time, and it is anticipated that they will turn out in large numbers.

A committee of ladies will be in charge and see that they spend a most enjoyable afternoon.

We are pleased to note that our citizens are patronizing this fair most liberally, and the boys, as well as the committee, are most appreciative of this. It is expected that troop A, Boy Scouts of this city, will attend in a body on one evening the first of next week.

The funeral of the late Thomas S. Evans, of East Orange, N. J., who died Wednesday afternoon at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John H. Watkins, 1011 King street, took place this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips.

The funeral of the late William H. Treakle took place from the residence 519 South Lee street, this afternoon. It was attended by members of the Order of Fraternal Americans and the Columbia Fire Engine Company.

NECESSARIES OF LIFE.

Howard's Advertisement Interesting to Housekeepers.

The Uister situation, the free tolls issue and the war in Mexico are attracting general attention, but the most momentous question, which has to be met by the great majority is where to procure the best articles for household consumption at the lowest prices.

F. B. Howard & Bro., 822 King street, "The Sanitary Store," is patronized by a large percentage of Alexandrians.

Their price list this week is especially interesting, and will, as usual, be scanned closely by those upon whom the responsibility of providing larders rests.

All articles are marked down to the lowest fraction and they will be found of the best varieties.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Carl Fleischmann, Proprietor of Hotel, Passes Away After Stroke of Paralysis.

Carl Fleischmann, who was stricken with paralysis a few days ago, died at his home on south Royal street, at 11:15 this afternoon. He is survived by a son, Harry Fleischmann. His wife, Mrs. Matilda Fleischmann, died February 5, 1912. Arrangements for the funeral have not been perfected.

Carl Fleischmann was born at Bad-Kissing, Bavaria, Germany, 69 years ago. He became a restauranteur in his younger days, and at the breaking out of the Franco-Prussian war in 1870, he served with distinction during that conflict in the German army, and was decorated by the Order of Iron Cross.

At the close of hostilities he came to this county, and prospered, but the financial panic which followed the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., in 1873, proved disastrous to him as it did to many others. He later located in Washington, where he opened a cafe, and from the superior culinary art, which he followed, his place soon enjoyed a reputation in the Capital city and became the resort of many.

When the wedding plans were being perfected for the Sartoris-Grant wedding Mr. Fleischmann was employed in a culinary capacity in the White House, and the massive cake which graced the table on the occasion of the wedding was his handiwork. It is said that on one occasion he was compelled to request President Grant, who who was an inveterate smoker, to leave the kitchen, as the fumes of tobacco were likely to impair the flavor of the edibles which were being prepared.

Twenty-three years ago Mr. Fleischmann removed to Alexandria, and for a time he conducted the hotel which in by-gone days was known as the Tontine on Cameron street, established by the late Joseph and John Cooney. He later removed to his last place of business on Royal street, near King, which has long been known as the Fleischmann Hotel.

Mr. Fleischmann was a member of Alexandria Lodge of Elks. During his residence in Alexandria he made many friends and acquaintances, all of whom will regret to learn of his death.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.

Passenger on Norfolk Steamer Alleged to Have Relieved Man of $17.

When the steamer Northland arrived at this port from Norfolk at an early hour this morning, the authorities were notified that a passenger, who gave his name as William Smith, was charged with stealing $17 from a passenger.

Smith had in the meantime left the steamer and proceeded up Prince street. Officer Young took up the trail and soon intercepted the accused as he was leaving a saloon. Smith was taken to the station house where he is being held for the action of the United States authorities.

ASSUMES THE BLAME.

Mr. Howland R. Gary wishes to announce that he is responsible for the delay in the arrival of the minister at the Swan-Doniphan wedding, Wednesday evening, and hopes that in justice to the minister, the blame will be placed where it properly belongs. He also desires to publically apologize to Dr. Watson and to express his regrets for any embarrassment this has caused.

ENGINEER ELECTED.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

TAKES CASE TO WILSON.

Miss Tyler Going to Washington to Appeal to President

Norfolk, Va., March 27.—For the first time in 25 years, Miss Mattie Tyler, granddaughter of John Tyler, tenth President of the United States, rode on a train late yesterday. She left on a steamer last night bound for Washington, where today she will call upon President Wilson and other officers in the hope that they will retain her as postmistress at Courtland, Va.

Miss Tyler is past 60 years old. She has been postmistress at Courtland for twenty years. Every president since McKinley's first administration has kept her in charge of the Courtland office. She was not required to stand civil service examination, and President Roosevelt let it be known that she could hold the job as long as he held his.

President Wilson recently decreed that all fourth-class postmasters must stand a civil service examination, Miss Tyler being barred because of her age.

Several others took the examination, and B. A. Williams got the appointment. He did not make the highest average, however, Miss Sallie Cole leading the list.

Miss Tyler's friends took up her cause and the newspapers printed several stories that attracted the attention of Representatives and Senators, who have intervened in her behalf. Miss Tyler received a telegram yesterday asking her to come to Washington. She declined to say who signed the message.

"I am almost afraid to go," she said today. "It has been so long since I rode on a train or a boat I feel like I am bobbing up and down. I am going to fight, however.

"My enemies who have been fighting me for years, appear to have won the fight, but the Tylers never stop until they can go no further. I am so afraid that this trip will upset me that I can hardly talk.

"I shall call on President Wilson and Postmaster-General Burleson. I don't think I have been treated fair, and I intend to tell them so."

Miss Tyler paid her respects to Congressman E. E. Holland, of the Second District, who she says has been one of those who worked to put her out of office.

Miss Tyler was visibly affected on the steamer. She wiped the tears from her eyes several times, but said she was going to try to be brave.

"A woman like me should not be required to do things like this," she said.

She denied that she ran the Courtland postoffice to suit herself, and said she distributed the mail as soon as she could. Those who opposed her reappointment said she was discourteous and did not pupt up the mail until hours after it arrived. She moved the postoffice to a little one-story building that she owns, and, according to those arrayed against her, ran the office to suit herself.

Miss Tyler, a frail little woman, was dressed in black, and wore a veil. She remained in the waiting room while waiting for the steamer and successfully avoided newspaper photographers who tried to snap her.

She was accompanied to Norfolk by C. W. Darden and William Sidley, Southampton county farmers and leaders of the Democratic party in their sections.

Miss Tyler said Sunday would be the birthday of John Tyler, her grandfather. She mentioned the fact that when he was notified of his election to the presidency he did not have enough money to pay his way to Washington.

"All Tylers,' 'she said, "have died with clean hands and empty pocketbooks."

Miss Tyler was assigned to room 13 by the purser of the steamer Northland, but she said she was not superstitious.

KILLED BY CAR.

George Davidson, Five Years Old, Is Run Down in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., March 27.—George Davidson, 5-year-old son of Mrs. Lucy Davidson, a widow, of 1236 Ashland street, not far from his home. The motorman, H. H. Stilson, was arrested by Bicycle Policemen Tiller and Gerring and formal charge of murder was lodged against him. He was admitted to bail for his appearance in Police Court.

Witnesses told the police that the accident was unavoidable. According to their statements, the child and several companions, was playing in the street, and ran directly in the path of the trolley, which was moving at a good rate of speed. It was said that it would have been a matter of impossibility for Stilson to avoid running over the boy.

BOOKKEEPER ACCUSED.

G. A. Heptinstall, Smith and McCoy Employe, is Held for Grand Jury.

Norfolk, Va., March 27.—G. A. Heptinstall, bookkeeper for Smith and McCoy, shipbuilders, was sent on to the Corporation Court Wednesday by Justice Barron on warrants charging shortage in his accounts. Specifically he is accused in one instance of taking $222 and in another $87, but evidence was offered in police court in an endeavor to show that the actual shortage in Heptinstall's accounts is $5,910.63.

Heptinstall, an expert bookkeeper, had been in the employ of Smith and McCoy about four years, and since the death of Mr. McCoy, he had had entire charge of the bookkeeping and cash, according to the testimony of Fred O. Smith, surviving member of the firm. Mr. Smith stated he too had a key to the cash drawer, but that whenever he took out any money he had to account for it.

The allegd shortage was discovered lact December, Mr. Smith said, when Heptinstall was sent to North Carolina to help out an office there. Subsequently a certified accountant, J W. Apitz, went over the books and it is upon his report that the prosecution was begun.

HEADLESS BODY IS FOUND.

Murder and Robbery Weeks Ago Mystifies Wise County.

Wise, Va., March 27.—The body of a man supposed to have been John King, of Jenkins, Kentucky, was found yesterday near Glenmorga, a mining town in this vicinity. The man had been murdered, robbed and decapitated.

His pockets were turned inside out and a suitcase, found near the body, had been cut open and rifled. The body apparently had been in the woods for several weeks.

The man had been shot in the back and his head had been cut off.

The discovery was made by a dog owned by Goldman Perry. After an inquiry Perry was arrested, but he was released when he convinced the authorities that he knew nothing of the crime.

The authorities of the county are determined to sift the murder, and detectives have been sent for. The scene of the crime is a lonely spot, frequented only by miners on their way to work. There is no clue to the identity of the slayer.

Several persons who saw the body of the slain man were unable to identify it. A card bearing the name of John Kingo, was found in the dead man's coat pocket. A similar card was in the suit case.

The bodies of R. P. Sanchez, a wealthy New Orleans man, and an unidentified 19-year-old girl were found in City Park yesterday afternoon. A revolver lay near them. Circumstances indicate the girl killed the man and then herself.

WRECK OF MONROE BLOWN UP.

Revenue Cutter Onandaga Clears Coastal Lane For Ships.

Norfolk, Va., March 27.—The wreck of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, sunk in January by the Merchant's & Miners' packet Nantucket, with a loss of 40 odd lives, has been blown up by the revenue cutter Onondaga, which returned to port here today.

Four explosions of guncotton removed all of the wreck that was a menace to navigation and the coastal lane is again free for deep ships. No bodies were brought to the surface and thus the statements of the divers that they had been swept out by the strong submarine current were verified.

The work of destroying the wreck was very spectacular. Tons of water and debris from the sunken ship shot high into the air with every charge. The hulk now is covered by 54 feet of water.

Considerable wreckage was brought to the surface, including a mahogany chair that was used in the main saloon.

A number of newspaper men and moving picture operators witnessed the destruction of the vessel. Wreckers will continue to recover freight from the hold of the sunken ship.

Ernest McWilliams, the 15-year-old boy who on Tuesday fought a 45-minute gun battle with the police of Terre Haute, Ind., and who received numerous wounds, died of his injuries in a hospital here early yesterday. McWilliams was caught in the gun store of Ed. Tetzel, and the police suspected he was there for the purpose of theft. The boy, however, declared he was there to get even with Tetzel because he had refused to give the boy employment.

TROUBLING OF THE WATERS.

As had been feared, the action of the President in recommending that the Panama Canal act be so amended as not to allow the free passage of American vessels through the great waterway, has disturbed the harmony of the Democratic party. Without attempting to sit in judgment upon this great issue, we can only say that present conditions are to be regretted, especially when it is remembered that during the past year the President and the organization which he represents have practically worked together with one accord.

Much uttered by the champions of both sides of this controversy is hard to refute, and while many prefer to believe that Mr. Wilson has given the matter close study and is acting in the interests of the country, others argue earnestly to show that the United States has an undoubted right to do what it pleases with its own.

The great mass of the people look upon diplomacy through a glass darkly. There are many important issues that are, for the best reasons, state secrets, which are kept from the general public. Mr. Wilson, as President, is behind the scenes, and he should know best how to act at this crisis.

It is sad to see that some leaders of the Democratic party are making themselves conspicuous in denunciations of the President; yet believers in free speech can see no reason why debate upon this momentous issue should be limited, and their cry of gag rule is being repeated by many who are too prone to give "horseback" opinions upon every issue, important or otherwise.

Exciting scenes were precipitated in Congress yesterday when the greatest legislative battle yet undertaken by President Wilson's administration was begun on a special rule in the House to limit debate and prohibit amendment of the administration's proposal to repeal the provision of the canal act. For two hours the rule was alternately defended and attacked in heated debate in the House.

When adjournment came, with an hour of debate on the rule left for today, Speaker Champ Clark, who had not yet announced his position on the repeal policy, issued a statement vigorously opposing the rule.

"Surely there is nothing sacred about this repeal bill, and there is no reason for this mad rush," said the Speaker's statement. "I will not be a party to ramming such rule down the throats of members."

Representative Campbell is quoted as saying:

"The old American eagle lined its nest with the mane of the British lion. Does the young American eagle tremble with fear when the British lion only growls?"

Robert L. Henry, Chairman of the House Rules Committee, when shown Speaker Clark's statement said:

"I am personaly devoted to the Speaker and think a great deal of him. However, he should be candid enough with the American people to say that the rule is not the fly in the ointment with him. From this statement it is plain that he intends to stand for the subsidy shoulder to shoulder with the special interests and the shipping monopoly and to fight the President of the United States, who is endeavoring to redeem our national honor. His heart is on the wrong side and with the special interests in this fight and against the Administration, and upon the side he should bravely take and stand and not endeavor to hide behind a technical quibble on rules. Of course, any sensible man knows that he is now fixing to jump squarely into the camp of the President's enemies. Instead of opposing rules, non-essentials in this conflict, he should reveal his real sympathies, and march bodily over to the standard of the railroad and ship monopoly."

In talks with visitors yesterday, President Wilson, representing his views on repeal of the canal toll exemption, argued that members of Congress are not being asked to change their personal opinions. He said they were being asked to vote patriotically for its repeal in order to correct a serious international situation, which threatens to embarrass the United States at every turn in future negotiations of treaties and trade agreements.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Man Says he Can't Subsist on $18,000 a Year.

New York, March 27.—Charles P. Buchanan, art connisseur, clubman and former tobacco merchant, finds it had to live on $18,000 a year. Mr. Buchanan filed a petition in bankruptcy on July 29th, last, but forgot to schedule or turn over to the trustees in bankruptcy the interest which he receives in trust funds under the wills of his father and mother. Therefore, Seaman Miller, referee in bankruptcy, recommended today that he be denied a discharge in bankruptcy.

Buchanan's income used to be $30,000 per year, but in the last three years is said to have dwindled to $18,0000. Buchanan, in accounting to Referee Miller for the manner in which he disposes of his income said that he spent a great deal on his friends.

"I have lived rather economically since I got on the water wagon four years ago," said Buchanan, "but that does not interfere with my friends. They can have what they want to drink and they do when they dine with me. My friends always get the best part of the loaf.

"The price of food has gone up," said Buchanan, when questioned as to the cost of his meals. "They now charge for bread and butter, and I am very fond of it. That makes it more expensive than it used to be.

"When I had $30,000 a year I spent it. I enjoyed myself traveling extensively. In the last three years I have not had what I consider a sufficient income."

Last February Buchanan asked that the alimony of $1,500 a year which he was paying his wife be reduced because of the inroads which the income tax had made on his income.

MYSTERY AS DARK AS EVER.

More Clues in Disappearance of Philadelphia Boy Run Down Without Result.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 27.—More clues in the disappearance of little Warren McCarrick from his home just two weeks ago yesterday, one founded on no more substantial substance than a dream, were run out today, and the mystery remains as dark as ever.

The first of the clues was that the boy had been recognized in a motor car driven by three men about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The former said that he knew Warren and that the boy had sen him and waved to him.

Simultaneously came word from another source that a motor car answering the description of the one in which the boy was riding had been left at a local garage. The police found the car and guarded it until the owner, A. A. Berliner, manager of the Reading Eastern League basketbal team, was located.

Yesterday morning an inspector of the United Gas Improvement Company called upon Captain Cameron, of the city detectives, and told him that his wife had dreamed several times that the boy was being held in a house near Seventeenth and Catherine Streets.

Detectives were sent to the house, which the man said he could pick out on his wife's dreams and description. He did. The detectives knocked, but a colored woman, at an upper story window denied them admission. They looked up at the owner of the premises, who let them in, but a thorough search revealed neither the missing boy nor anything suspicious.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF VALUABLE MANUFACTURING PLANT, Machinery, Tools, Appliances and Gasoline Engines.

Under and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned Special Commissioners of sale, by a decree entered on the 7th day of March, 1914, in the chancery cause of Central Metal and Supply Company, vs. Emerson Engine Company, Incorporated, et als, and R. D. Weaver and R. H. Goldsborough vs Victor Lee Emerson, et als, consolidated, pending in the Circuit Court of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, we will offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Royal street entrance to the Market Building, in the City of Alexandria, Va., on at 12 O'clock M., the following described real and personal property:

1st: All that lot of ground with the buildings and improvements thereon, on the south side of Duke street and east side of Potomac Strand, in the City of Alexandria, Virginia, bounded as follows:—

Beginning at the intersection of the south side of Duke street with the east side of Potomac Strand and running thence eastwardly with Duke street into the Potomac River; thence returning to the point of beginning and running southwardly with the east side of Potomac Strand one hundred and forty-five (145) feet, seven (7) inches, more or less to the north line of the lot of ground conveyed by the Haskin Wood Vulcanizing Company to the Real Estate Improvement Company of Baltimore, by deed dated June 9, 1894, and recorded in Deed Book 33, page 128, of the land records of the City of Alexandria, Virginia; thence eastwardly parallel to Duke street into said river; thence north to connect with the first line, being known and described as the "Pioneer Mills" property, together with all rights, appurtenances, riparian rights, easements and privileges to the same belonging, or in any wise appertaining, subject, however, to a right of way through a ten foot alley over said property, conveyed to the Real Estate Improvement Company of Baltimore by the Haskin Wood Vulcanizing Company, by deed dated June 9th, 1894. Being the same property which was conveyed to the said Emerson Engine Company, Incorporated, by the Bryant Fertilizer Company, a corporation incorporated under the laws of Virginia, by deed dated December 19th, 1910, and duly recorded amongst the land records of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, in Deed Book 60, page 401.

2nd. First: All that lot of ground with the building thereon used as a foundry, situated on the north side of Duke street, and west side of Union street, and fronting on Duke street seventy (70) feet, and on Union street, thirty (30) feet, the back lines being the same length respectively as the corresponding front lines, and binding on an alley eighteen feet, nine inches wide, and running north from Duke street, with the right of way over said alley.

Second: All that lot of ground with the buildings and improvements thereon, beginning on the north side of Duke street, eighty-eight (88) feet, nine (9) inches, west of Union street, on the west line of an alley eighteen feet, nine inches wide; thence running west on Duke street nine (9) feet, eight (8) inches, more or less, to the east line of a lot of ground conveyed to Ernest Mills by deed recorded amongst the land records of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, in Liber 57, page 328, to which reference is hereby made; thence with the line of the said conveyance to Ernest Mills, northwardly parallel to said alley, seventy-two (72) feet; thence westwardly in a line parallel to Duke street, seven (7) feet, four (4) inches; thence northwardly parallel with said alley, thirty-nine (39) feet; thence westwardly parallel to Duke street twenty-three (23) feet; thence leaving the lines of the said Ernest Mills northwardly parellel to said alley, thirty-seven (37) feet, more or less, to the south line of an alley thirty (30) feet wide, leading from Union street to Lee street; thence eastwardly along the line of said thirty foot alley, forty (40) feet, more or less, to the west line of said eighteen feet, nine inches alley; and thence southwardly along the line of said last mentioned alley to Duke street and the point of beginning.

Third: All the lot of ground improved by a building used as a machine shop, beginning at the intersection of the south side of Duke street with the west side of Potomac Strand, and running thence southwardly with the west side of said Potomac Strand one hundred (100) feet to the north line of an alley twenty (20) feet wide, which extends with the width westwardly from said Strand a distance of ninety-three (93) feet; thence northwardly with the north line of said alley sixty-two (62) feet; thence north parallel with the first line one hundred (100) feet to Duke street; and thence east on Duke street sixty-two (62) feet to the point of beginning, with the right of way over and the use of said Strand and alley in common with others entitled thereto.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF AN UNDIVIDED ONE-HALF INTEREST OF A CERTAIN FARM IN THE COUNTY OF ALEXANDRIA, STATE OF VIRGINIA, LOCATED NEAR CLARENDON.

By virtue of a certain deed of trust recorded in Deed Book 136, page 150, of the Land Records of the County of Alexandria, State of Virginia, default having been made in the payment of the debt secured thereby, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction in front of the premises at 5 o'clock P. M., on an undivided one-half interest in the following property situated in the county of Alexandria, in the State of Virginia, containing 25.536 acres of land described as follows:

THE 28th DAY OF MARCH, 1914,

Beginning at a stone mentioned in the plat of survey made by George E. Garrett, County Surveyor, February 15, 1905, and filed in Court in the suit of Birch et al., vs. Alexander et al., in the Circuit court of Alexandria County, in the State of Virginia, and also recorded in the Land Records of said County, said stone being described in plat survey as "Stone—at angle in Hunter & Taylor B'd'y'l" and running thence southwestwardly 1379.08 feet to the point "S" said "S" being described in said plat of survey as "Stone—corner as claimed by Birch;" thence running northwestwardly 818.14 feet to the point described in said plat of survey as "E"; running thence 76 degrees 35 1-2 minutes East, 1420.18 feet; and running thence South 15 degrees 15 minutes East, 775.5 feet to the point of beginning, being the area marked "D" on said plat of survey.

This interest will be sold subject to an existing indebtedness of five thousand ($5,000) dollars, secured by a first deed of trust upon said property. Terms of sale, all cash. The terms of sale must be complied with in 30 days after the day of sale, otherwise the said undivided interest will be resold at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, after ten day's re-advertisement thereof. A deposit of two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars will be required at the time of sale. Taxes and all other charges against the property will be adjusted to the date of the transfer of the title to the purchaser, the title to be good or otherwise the sale will be declared off, and the deposit refunded to the purchaser. All costs of conveyancing, Notary fees, and other costs attending the transfer of the title shall be borne by the purchaser.

Makes Healthy Bowels

THIS simple rule of health is daily called attention to by every doctor in the land, whose first question to the patient almost invariably is, "Are your bowels regular?" Yet there's not one person in fifty who takes proper care of the bowels. And the result of this foolish neglect is nine-tenths of all ill-health.

If today you are unable to free your body of waste matter at the usual time, or if the act causes straining, pains and discomfort, don't let that condition occur again tomorrow. Unless your bowels can carry away the waste materials left after food is digested, decay sets in, the poisons of which, taken up by the blood, increase the risk of Typhoid Fever, Appendicitis, and many other serious diseases.

In treating constipation, there is a right way and a wrong way. The wrong way is to take harsh purgatives which even though they do clear the bowels, cause griping and nausea, injure the delicate tissues, and so disturb the normal functions as to cause the return of constipation. The right way is to help Nature to produce natural movement, without pain or discomfort, by using

Rexall Orderlies

More Than One Hundred Million Were Sold Last Year

This enormous quantity was used with good results by busy men who suffered from constipation, due to lack of exercise, or indigestion caused by overwork—by children whose parents realize the harmful effect of common purgatives—by old people whose systems cannot stand anything harsh—by women during pregnancy, and after childbirth, when any medicine with a violent action would be particularly dangerous. Many of these people are your neighbors and friends. Ask anyone who has ever used them—they'll tell you Rexall Orderlies satisfied and helped them.

—a gentle laxative in the form of a chocolate-tasting tablet. One of these tablets eaten just before going to bed will help to restore your bowels to normal activity at a time when, your body being at rest, the medicine can do its best work. As a result of taking that tablet (or say two, if your case is obstinate), your bowels will move easily and naturally in the morning. The use of Rexall Orderlies for a few days afterward will restore normal regularity. Even chronic constipation is benefited by them, and it is not necessary to continue the treatment for a long time, because, instead of driving Nature, they simply help her to help herself.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores and in this town only by us. In vest pocket tin boxes, 10c, 25c, 50c

This Is Our Guarantee—You Risk No Money

If Rexall Orderlies do not make your bowels act right, tell us so and we'll give back your money without asking a single question. There is no red tape to this guarantee. It means just what it says. You sign nothing. We won't hesitate, or ask you any questions. Your word is enough. If Rexall Orderlies do not do all you expect them to—if you don't feel better after using them and find that they are the pleasantest-acting and best laxative you have ever used, we want you to tell us and get your money back.

When you buy Foley's Honey and Tar Compound because just a few doses stop the cough and heals the cold, one bottle lasts a long time, and the last dose is as good as the first. Mrs. SSS 20 Van Buren St., Kingston, N .Y., says: "Father had lagrippe and his cough was something terrible and he could not sleep Foley's Honey and Tar not only stopped his coughing, but it brought back my voice to me after a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis." E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

Plain Truth That's Worth Money.

Using Foley's Honey and Tar for a cough and cold is just practical common sense. It is exactly made to stop a cough and check a cold and it prevents lagrippe, bronchitis or pneumonia. F. F. Monahan, Monomie, Wis., says: "I am exposed to all kinds of weather and I find Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always fixes me up in good shape when I catch cold or have a bad cough. I recommend it gladly." Refuses substitutes. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

WANTS METHODIST UNION.

Dr. T. N. Ivey Thinks Northern and Southern Churches Ready.

Baltimore, March 27.—The great majority of the people in the Methodist Episcopal Church and in the Methodist Episcopal Church South are ready and anxious for the closest union possible between the two great branches of Episcopal Methodism, in the opinion of the Rev. Thomas N. Ivey, editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, the organ of the Southern Methodist Church.

"Though there are some fire eaters in both the Northern and Southern branches," he said yesterday at the Hotel Rennert, "the great body of both churches want a closer union. There are some of these who may object to organic union, but in the last analysis the majority would welcome it.

"At the next general conference of the Southern Church, at Oklahoma City in May, a plan of closer union formulated in January at Nashville, Tenn., by the Federal Council of Methodism will be presented for approval. Two years hence it will be presented to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"According to this plan, there is to be in each annual conference of both Northern and Southern branches a federation commission which is to hear and adjudicate all complaints made by either party when it is thought that one denomination is able to do all the work in one town or city and the presence of the other denomination simply divides the forces and weakens Methodism.

"In case these questions are not settled before the conference boards, they will be referred to the Federal Council, and the Council will act as a supreme court.

"It is conceded that when the two Methodisms can adjust their territorial difficulties, it will be much easier to bring about a closer and more nearly organic union. Yet those on both sides who know conditions best, while sanguine as to the ultimate union of some kind, fully realize that it is yet some time in the future. It will take years to remove certain obstacles, and these obstacles can only be removed by the growing fraternal spirit and the softening influence of time.

"There will probably be memorials presented at the general conference outlining a plan for organic union. These memorials will suggest the formation of several territorial general conferences, all under one Episcopal Methodism and one supreme body.

"It is but fair to say that the Methodist Episcopal Church has a very grave problem to solve in its disposition of its colored members. It is thought by many on both sides that the formation of a separate general conference for the colored people will be a necessary condition of anything like organic union."

Dr. Ivey then explained that this problem can be solved with more ease than generally believed, as only in a portion of the Methodist Episcopal territory is the negro membership large enough to count heavily, and as there is already a well organized Colored Methodist Episcopal Church. He added that apparently the gravest cleavage existing today was exactly the same point on which the church separated in 1844, an interpretation of the constitution concerning the supreme governing body of the church.

This Federal Council of Methodism is composed of three bishops, three traveling preachers and three laymen from each denomination, making a body of 18 men. The three bishops for the Southern Church are A. W. Wilson Collins Denny and E. E. Hoss, all of whom are now in the city. None of the three feels at liberty to make a public statement on the question, because they are preparing a report and recommendations to the general conference at the present time, and have not yet agreed fully on all the details.

"The first direct attempt at organic union was in 1874," Dr. Ivey said, "when a commission from each denomination met at Cape May, N. J., to consider means of union. The deliberations of that commission formed a basis for a fraternal spirit and for a possible future union.

"In 1911 the Federal Council met at Chattanooga, Tenn, and spent many days trying to outline a basis of union and at one time thought it had succeeded. But the difference in interpreting the constitution of the churches—which is the same—proved too much then and nothing definite was done.

"The plan now is to direct its whole efforts toward eliminating the difficulties which come from the overlapping of the two Methodisms and to prepare the way as much as possible for the ultimate union which I have no doubt will come some day."

ATTACKED BY POLAR BEAR.

School Girl Has Narrow Escape at Central Park, New York.

New York, March 27.—Alice, a great 900-pound polar bear, yesterday attacked Norma Moore a 14-year-old school girl, who visited the Central Park zoo to "feed the animals." That the girl was not disfigured for life or killed by the beast is due to the promptness of the animal keepers, who heard her screams of pain and terror.

Norma had crept under the guard rail in the rear of the bear cage, and was offering a slice of bread to Alice, when the bear decided to strike. Its big claws closed over the extended hand of the girl, and then the jaws snapped. The brute's muzzle struck the iron bars of the cage, fortunately, and a firm hold was not secured. Only two of its teeth sunk into a wrist of the girl.

In front of the cage was a crowd of nurse girls and children, who saw the attack of the bear. Their screams of fright, mingled with those of Norma, brought Joe Cunningham, the bear keeper, to the rescue on the run.

Norma slipped from the clutch of the bear to the stone paving, her face dangerously close to the bars. She was in a dead faint. Cunningham's first effort was to make a tourniquet with his handkerchief. This accomplished, he picked up the girl and ran with her to the arsenal station.

An ambulance was summoned from Flower Hospital and the girl was hurried to the institution.

Keeper Cunningham said that heretofore the girl and the bear have been good friends, and that Norma came often to feed her wild pet. Yesterday, when she offered Alice the slice of bread she tried to coax Bruin closer to the bars by withdrawing the hand holding the bread. This and the hot weather angered the bear and it struck.

It was tentatively decided yesterday by the Pope to hold a consistory either at the end of April or the beginning of May unless unforeseen circumstances should intervene. It is assumed that about a dozen cardinals will be appointed.

SUES FOR DOWER RIGHTS.

Woman Claims Half of Millionaire's Personal Estate.

Louisville, Ky., March 27.—Intimate details of the life of Louis Phillip Ewald, late mountaineer of St. Louis and Louisville, which he devoted painstaking efforts and a small fortune to keep secret, were revealed yesterday, almost five years after his death, during trial of the suit brought by Ellen J. Golden, or Ewald, by which she seeks to establish dower rights in Ewald's estate, alleging she was his common law wife.

Ewald's estate was estimated to be worth about $4,000,000. He willed $15,000 each to nine brothers and sisters, most of whom live in St. Louis, and the remainder to Ellen Golden's three children, whom Ewald had adopted.

The woman is suing for a judgment for half the personal estate and a widow's interest in the realty, aggregating approximately $2,000,000.

The plaintiff on the witness stand yesterday testified that the alleged common law marriage between herself and Ewald took place in St. Louis in March 1890. Prior to leaving St. Louis to take up her residence in an elaborate home built for her by Ewald, in an exclusive residential section of this city, she lived in Williamsport, Pa., Pittsburgh, Washington, Chicago, and Denver.

More than 100 telegrams containing expressions of affection, purporting to have been from Ewald and addressed to the plaintiff under the name of "Mrs. E. J. Seaman," at a Detroit Hotel, were read to the jury. The plaintiff admitetd she never was generally known as Mrs. Ewald.

Three persons were killed and three seriously hurt when an automobile swerved and plunged forty feet into a ravine near Dallas, Tex., yesterday. Dr. Samuel P. Tipton, driver of the car, and Mrs. Katie M. Loving were crushed to death. Mrs. Loving's son, William, was so badly injured he died soon after reaching a hospital. Two women and a man were the other occupants of the car. All were residents of Dallas.

HER FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE

The Results Made This Newburg Lady Glad She Followed Suggestion.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothrum, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a sallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief.

A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my sister have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited.

I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women."

Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old.

Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength.

Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.
